

NASA Mid-Level Leader Program Nomination Call

Due Date: June 1, 2012

POC: Rebecca Howlett, Rebecca.D.Howlett@nasa.gov

This is the annual request for nominations for NASA's Mid-Level Leader Program (MLLP). Applications are due to Rebecca Howlett, MS 33, Bldg, 2101, Room 113, by close of business June 1, 2012.

The NASA Mid-Level Leader Program (MLLP) provides significant leadership development for a diverse, Agency-wide group of individuals who have high potential for assuming greater leadership responsibilities in formal management or program/project management roles. The curriculum is focused on cohort building, collaboration and leading across traditional boundaries.

Program elements include:

- Four core learning sessions
- Three to six month career-broadening rotation
- Mentoring sessions with NASA leaders
- Professional coaching sessions
- Other Individual Development Plan driven learning activities

Activities are spread out over sixteen months to provide maximum flexibility for the participant and their supervisor to maintain continuity with the Center. Activities promote building competencies in self-awareness and personal effectiveness in critical NASA leadership skills such as communication, trust building, influence, diversity and inclusion, decision making and leading/managing change

Applicants should be GS-13 or GS-14 civil servants with at least two years of NASA service and have attended a minimum of one Agency or Center leadership development within the last five years. Applications not containing this information will not be forwarded to the Center Selection Panel for further consideration.

Additional information can be found at the Agency website:

http://leadership.nasa.gov/Development/Mid_Level_Leader/Mid_Level_Leader.htm
